

Frm Main -2147217900 Error line 0 the insert into statement contains the following unknown field name

Error Description:

"FrmMain -2147217900 Error line 0 the insert into statement contains the following unknown field name (GUID) Make sure you have spelled it correctly and try again."

Resolution:

If you receive the following error message while attempting to restore the PsychCorpCenter from a restore file created on a different computer: "FrmMain -2147217900 Error line 0 the insert into statement contains the following unknown field name (GUID) Make sure you have spelled it correctly and try again."

Check the system that the restore was created on. Verify that all PsychCorpCenter software has been reinstalled that was on the previous computer. Do this prior to the restore process. (ie. Old Computer WISC IV-SA and WIAT II-SA, New Computer Only has the WIAT II-SA installed. This combination will produce this error message when performing a restore from a backup created on the old computer.)

Additional Information:

You can check all installed PsychCorpCenter programs that are installed by opening the software and clicking on Help, then About PsychCorpCenter, then Product Info.

If you need any additional assistance please contact the Technical Support Center at 800-249-0659.
