SFS Integrity checks Runtime error 429 Active X component cannot create object

Error Description:

SFS_Integrity_checks Runtime error 429 Active X component cannot create object
SFS_Integrity_checks Active X Component cannot create object

Resolution:

To correct this issue for any PsychCorpCenter program:

1. Navigate to the following folder C:\program Files\Psychcorpcenter
2. Locate the file Pcc_SFS.dll, Double click on this file.
3. You will get a message that states Windows cannot locate a program to open this file with choose, Search for program.
4. Click browse, Browse to C:\Windows\System32 and highlight Regsvr32.exe and click open.
5. You wil see a message that state that registering the file Succeeded.
6. In the PsychCorpCenter folder, there is a file named Sfs.exe double click on this file
7. When the interface launches, click on Synchronize.
8. If Successful, Launch the PsychCorpCenter as normal.

---