

Printing too dark

Frequently Asked Question:

Printing too dark

Answer:

The printer options for the black and white contrast are configured through Windows 3.1 or Windows 95 and not through the SAWS-A program. Please contact your printer support for the correct configuration of your specific printer.

The SAWS A is no longer available for purchase. Support for this software will continue for computers that fall within the parameters of the system requirements. For a list of system requirements please see the article in this section titled "System Requirements"
