

Why are there different scores available for the Social-Emotional Scale and the Greenspan Social-Emotional Growth Chart?

Frequently Asked Question:

Why are there different scores available for the Social-Emotional Scale and the Greenspan Social-Emotional Growth Chart?

Answer:

The difference between the Greenspan Social-Emotional Growth Chart and the Bayley-III Social-Emotional Scale is that the Greenspan Social-Emotional Growth Chart provides only cut scores; the Bayley-III provides scaled scores for this measure.
